

Be part of a thriving organization! Sign up as a volunteer today!

The Stickley Museum at Craftsman Farms is growing and we need your help! Volunteers provide essential support to everyday activities as well as devote their efforts to fundraising events and educational programs.

Join the Stickley Museum's family of volunteers and make new friends, while sharing your talents and skills. A variety of jobs are available, and hours are flexible.

Administrative Help

Help with office work such as computer data entry, envelope stuffing, and filing. Hours and type of work are flexible.

Children's Programs

Help instructors of Girl Scout events, day camps, workshops, or give children's tours. Work one-on-one with children, help with set-up and clean-up. Teens are welcome.

Development, Fundraising, Special Events

Work on cultivation and fundraising events, like the annual gala. Help sell program listings to local businesses.

Education Events

Provide assistance for education events like lectures and Family Days in a variety of areas from admissions to craft activities to refreshment tables.

Museum Docent

Give tours of the Stickley Museum to the general public and visiting groups. Training is provided. Docents interested in working with children are especially needed.

Museum Store

Greet visitors, handle shop transactions, assist customers in front and behind the sales desk, and help maintain inventory.

If you are interested in any of these volunteer opportunities or have any questions, please fill in the application at right or contact the Volunteer Office at 973-540-0311 or via email education@stickleymuseum.org
